

Nathan Stewart

PRINCIPAL PLANNER

Nathan joined Lateral Planning as a Principal Town Planner in April 2025, bringing extensive experience in statutory and strategic planning across commercial, retail, mixed-use, and industrial developments. With over a decade of experience, Nathan has track record in managing complex projects and achieving successful outcomes in challenging planning contexts.

Nathan's expertise spans site investigations, development applications, subdivisions, structure planning, and scheme amendments. He has significant experience representing clients in the State Administrative Tribunal, including as an expert witness, and has played a key role in land compensation negotiations. He is adept at leading multi-disciplinary teams on large-scale projects and navigating the intricacies of planning approvals and policy frameworks.

His experience includes projects for major developers, landowners, and government agencies, with notable work across metropolitan and regional Western Australia.

Qualifications

Bachelor of Arts

Urban and Regional Planning - Hons; Curtin University
(2012)

Employment History

Lateral Planning

April 2025 – present
Principal Planner

Rowe Group

May 2013 – April 2025
Town Planner, Senior Planner, Principal Town Planner

TPG Town Planning, Urban Design and Heritage

October 2011 – November 2012
Planning Assistant